Quotes

Bobby B., The Vinyl Vagabond

"McKechnie's gorgeous tales of love, loss and life were perfectly suited to the intimacy of this venue. Although his set was sprinkled with covers of artists as diverse as Kathleen Edwards, Charlotte Cornfield, First Aid Kit and even The Smashing Pumpkins, it was his original material that really stood out to me. At times melancholic, while at other times whimsical and observational, it was that unique commitment to variety that kept the evening moving along nicely."

Quotes

Douglas McLean, The Sound Cafe

“Graven’s songs have been called ‘thunderous’ and ‘warm’ in the same breath, and his varied musical influences make for a wild set of sonics and open-hearted lyricism that still stay rooted in his honest signature sound.”

McLean, Douglas. “A Conversation with Graven (Matty McKechnie).” The Sound Cafe, The Sound Cafe, 16 June 2022.

“Matt has made a record that is easy on the ears and has lots of heart.”
